

Beth Davidson has been a part of Alaska's HITECH activities and IT Planning for the Alaska Department of Health & Social Services since 2010 as a member of the state team and now as the lead for all projects and activities under the IT Planning office. Beth began her career path with the State of Alaska as a business analyst for the Medicaid Management Information System Design, Development and Implementation project. Beth's focus quickly changed from the MMIS DDI project to the Medicaid EHR Incentive Program and the Health Information Exchange Cooperative Agreement Grant. In January 1, 2015, Beth was named as the State Health Information Technology Coordinator and is now also responsible for IT Planning and Governance for the Alaska Department of Health & Social Services in addition to still managing Alaska's HITECH activities. Beth has focused much of her recent work on the development of Alaska's Health Information Exchange, Master Client Index and refinement of Alaska's IT Governance processes and IT Enterprise Roadmap.
