Well-Child Checkups

Denali KidCare/Medicaid pays for your baby's well-child checkups. It is important for your baby to see a health care provider when he or she is sick, but it is just as important for them to go when they are feeling fine. A well-child checkup for your baby helps to detect any problems early and keeps them up-to-date on their immunizations. Regular checkups will also ensure your baby has a healthcare provider who knows them well.

What happens during a well-child checkup?

- You can ask any questions you may have
- Head to toe exam
- A Developmental Screening to detect whether your baby is learning and growing appropriately
- Receive important childhood immunizations
- Discuss nutrition
- Assess your child's behaviors and emotions
- Vision and hearing screening
- Referrals to a specialist if needed
- Learn what to expect as your baby grows

When should your child have a well-child checkup? The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends all infants receive a well-child checkup at:

- | | |
|----------------|-------------|
| • 3-5 Days Old | • 9 Months |
| • 1 Month | • 12 Months |
| • 2 Months | • 15 Months |
| • 4 Months | • 18 Months |
| • 6 Months | • 24 Months |

Immunizations Save Lives

Protect your child at all ages. Diseases like measles, polio, and whooping cough (pertussis) still exist. Immunizations protect children and adults from these and other serious but preventable diseases. Ask your health care provider at every checkup to make sure that all immunizations are up-to-date. Go to http://dhss.alaska.gov/dph/Epi/iz/Documents/IZEasyScheduleChildren_Birth-6.pdf to view the Immunization Schedule for your child. Visit www.vaccinateyourbaby.org/schedule/ for fun tools and resources about immunizations. For more information call the Alaska Immunization Helpline at 269-8088 or toll free 888-430-4321.

Smiles for Life

Tooth decay is one of the most common diseases seen in children today. Cavities in teeth can cause pain and prevent children from being able to eat, speak, sleep and learn properly. Denali KidCare/Medicaid recommends that all children receive fluoride varnish to prevent new cavities and help stop cavities that may have already started.

Fluoride varnish is a protective medication that is painted on teeth to prevent cavities. It works very well for young children because it is quick and easy to apply, does not have a bad taste, and it is not painful. Contact your dentist, health aide or other health care provider to see if this service is right for your child.

Alaska Infant Learning Program

The early years of a child's life are the most important. From ages birth to 3, rapid learning and brain development takes place. Alaska's Early Intervention/Infant Learning Program (EI/ILP) is a program that provides specialized services for children who have developmental delays and/or disabilities. The services are for children birth to 3 years of age. Services offered through the Infant Learning program are developmental screening and evaluation, hearing and vision screening, family service coordination, early education services, support or play groups and social services, and developmental services. For additional information call 1 (877) 477-3659.

Eye Care Coverage

Denali KidCare/Medicaid covers eye exams and eye glasses. Important things to know about your coverage:

- One company makes all of the eyeglasses that Denali KidCare/Medicaid buys. The same eye doctor that gives you a prescription can order your glasses
- Denali KidCare/Medicaid covers only certain frames. Popular styles are available for boys and girls of all ages. Scratch-resistant coating on plastic lenses is included for anyone under the age of 21
- If you want different frames or a feature that is not covered, you will need to pay the entire cost of the glasses yourself. The amount that Denali KidCare would have paid can't be applied to the cost of other glasses
- Denali KidCare/Medicaid does not usually pay for contact lenses
- Denali KidCare/Medicaid does not pay for progressive lenses
- If your child has special vision care needs or breaks a pair of glasses, your eye doctor will work with Denali KidCare/Medicaid to get more services approved

Family Nutrition

WIC, the Women, Infants and Children program is a nutrition program that helps pregnant women, new mothers and young children eat well, learn about good nutrition and stay healthy.

WIC is for all kinds of families: married and single parents, working or not working. If you are a father, mother, grandparent, foster parent or other legal guardian of a child under 5 years of age, you can apply for your child.

You can participate in WIC if you:

- Live in Alaska
- Have a nutritional need (WIC can help determine this)
- Are pregnant or breastfeeding woman
- Are postpartum or have a six month old baby
- Have a child under 5
- Have a family income meeting WIC Income Eligibility Guidelines

Call to make an appointment. At your appointment, WIC staff will check to see if you and your family qualify. If you live in a community without a WIC office, you can apply through your village health clinic or Public Health Nurse. To locate a WIC office near you visit this website: <http://dhss.alaska.gov/dpa/Pages/nutri/WIC/default.aspx>.

Healthy Eating Makes a Difference

Healthy eating habits and physical activity work together for better health. Making healthy food choices helps your child grow, develop and be ready to learn in school. To learn more about healthy eating visit the WIC nutrition education site at: <http://dhss.alaska.gov/dpa/Pages/nutri/wic/wiceducation.aspx>.
