

Weatherization Information

Free Weatherization To Qualified Homeowners and Renters

Want to seal up the air leaks in your home but don't know how? You may qualify for free or low-cost weatherization services. For more information, please contact the provider for your area from the list below.

Phone	Weatherization provider	Service Area
800-478-8080	Alaska Community Development Corp.	Mat-Su, Kenai-Penn, Copper River, Kodiak, Bristol Bay, Aleutians
800-478-5323	Interior Weatherization	Interior Alaska
800-478-7227	RurAL Cap Statewide	Anchorage, Juneau, western and northern Alaska
907-279-2511	RurAL Cap Anchorage	Southeast Alaska except Juneau

Don't qualify for the free weatherization? There are some simple things you can do on your own. For more information and ideas, check out:

- www.akenergyefficiency.org Visit this website for information on how to get a residential energy assessment, learn about programs to help finance weatherization improvements, and find an energy professional. They also have energy guides, energy saving tips, and energy calculators you can use to project your annual costs.
- www.ahfc.us Alaska Housing Finance Corporation offers a number of free classes that are held at the Cold Climate Housing Research Center in Fairbanks and at Wisdom & Associates in Anchorage. Click on "classes" on their website to see a calendar of scheduled, free classes.
- <http://energy.gov/energysaver/energy-saver> This site offers energy saving tips as well as a Do It Yourself Guide to Weatherization and "Do It Yourself Energy Saving Project" information on a lot of things you can do to save energy in your home.
- www.cchrc.org The Cold Climate Housing Research Center offers a large selection of articles and publications on a variety of topics including energy saving tips and Healthy Homes. The Cold Climate Housing Research Center also offers workshops on a variety of topics.
- <http://www.gvea.com/resources/energysense> Golden Valley Electric Association, in Fairbanks, offers a program called GVEA HomeSense Audit that is free to residents who meet the income guidelines and $19.95 for everyone else.
- Most electric utility companies offer energy saving tips on their individual websites. Please check out your provider's website for more this valuable information.