Subject: WIC Friday Update April 24

Hi All,

Sending this out a little late. Hope you have a great weekend. This is Terry's last week before retiring. We were very lucky to hire Terry at the beginning of the SPIRIT transfer and she has contributed so much to SPIRIT's success. We wish her an excellent retirement.

Kathleen

1. Updated vendor monitoring forms:

The vendor unit has made a few changes to the vendor monitoring report and the minimum stock forms. Please use the new attached forms when conducting monitoring visits. As always, please let the vendor unit know if we can answer any vendor compliance questions for you!

A Personal Note:

I'm retiring on May first, with Thursday being my last day working for WIC.

I have great admiration for all of you working in the WIC clinics. Your dedication and adaptability is exceptional!

I'll miss working with you,

Terry

Amber Waves Report: Painting a More Complete Picture of WIC: How WIC Impacts Nonparticipants

Highlights:

- Requirements that WIC-authorized stores stock a minimum variety and quantity of WIC foods increases availability of healthy foods in some small WIC and non-WIC stores.
- To qualify as WIC-eligible, some foods had to be reformulated, which has increased the nutrient quality of some foods purchased by WIC and non-WIC customers.
- WIC program regulations may have had the unintended effect of raising prices and limiting availability of non-WIC brands of infant formula in some retail food stores.
