

Family Meals Cookbook

so good for me!

EVON ZERBETZ

Family meals are fun!

Breastfeeding is the best first family meal.

- Feed your baby only breastmilk the first 6 months.
- Breastfeed as long as you and baby want.

Start little ones at the table early.

- Children as young as 6 months can sit in a highchair during meal time.
- Young children and infants over 6 months can eat small bites of soft foods from the family table.

Cook meals quickly and eat slowly.

- Parents decide what foods to serve and children decide how much to eat.
- Older children can help prepare meals.
- Children are more likely to eat if they help cook.

Have family meals with your children.

- Children of all ages eat better when adults eat with them.
- Mom and Dad and other adults are role models for healthy eating.

Talk to each other at the table.

- Share the best part of the day, what is going on or family stories.
- Save serious talk for another time.
- Turn off the TV during meals.

How to get your child to try healthy foods

Some children may be picky eaters, a parent's responsibility is to provide a positive eating atmosphere and healthy food choices.

Tips to get them to eat healthy foods

- Give foods silly names.
- Let children help with shopping and cooking.
- Go easy on sugar and salt—gradually reduce the amount you use. If your child is raised without as much sugar and salt they won't miss it. Try to use honey instead of sugar because it is sweeter so you need less. Avoid honey for first year.
- Teach your child about basic nutrition—talk with your child about eating healthy foods and why. Try playing games.
- Serve in small helpings and bite size—smaller amounts are best. If your child wants more he or she will ask for more.
- Ask your child to try everything, but don't force them to finish.
- Do not give your child snacks in the hour before mealtime—eating too soon before meals will fill your child up and he or she won't get nutrients needed from meal time foods.
- Be creative—children love bright colors, animals and funny shapes. Serve food on different plates or cut food into shapes.
- Make mealtime fun and social—keep eating a positive experience for your child and it can be a fun time for the whole family. Do not watch TV while eating. Avoid nagging, threatening or begging your child to eat something. It is your responsibility to offer healthy food, but your child needs to choose what and how much they want to eat.
- Eat the same foods as your child—children learn by example. If they see you eating it then they know it must be good. Don't share your food dislikes with your child.

Cooking with Children

There are many reasons to cook with your children:

-  You, your children and other family members (including Dad) spend time together
-  Your children will not be in front of the TV
-  Your children learn about the importance of eating healthy
-  Your children are more likely to eat food they helped prepare
-  Your children develop their brain and thinking skills
-  Children learn to follow directions
-  It is an opportunity to praise your children
-  It gives children a feeling of accomplishment
-  Your children learn important life skills
-  You and your children are having fun!!!

How to Cook with Children

1. Wash hands.
2. Decide on the area of the kitchen where you will work.
3. Gather stools or chairs that will allow your child to stand or sit comfortably while working.
4. Get out the recipe you will be using.
5. Read the recipe with your child. Explain that you will be following the steps in the recipe to prepare the food.
6. Set out:
 - equipment and supplies that you will need
 - ingredients that you will be using.
7. Have your child help with cooking activities.
8. Clean up with your child.
9. Eat what you have prepared.

What Can Young Children Do?

Your child can help. How will depend on her or his age. Keep the following in mind with young children and cooking:

2-year-olds are learning to use the large muscles in their arms:

- scrub vegetables and fruits
- carry unbreakable items to the table
- dip foods
- wash and tear lettuce and salad greens
- break bread into pieces

3 year-olds are learning to use their hands:

- pour liquids into batter (you measure first)
- mix batter or other dry and wet ingredients together
- shake a drink in a closed container
- spread butters or spreads
- knead dough
- wash vegetables and fruit
- serve foods
- put things in the trash after cooking or after a meal

4 & 5-year-olds are learning to control small muscles in their fingers:

- squeeze or juice oranges, lemons, and limes
- peel some fruits and vegetables (bananas, onions, etc.)
- mash soft fruits and vegetables
- cut soft foods with a plastic knife (mushrooms, hard-boiled eggs)
- press cookie cutters
- measure dry ingredients
- crack open/ break eggs
- beat eggs with an egg beater
- set the table
- wipe up after cooking
- clear the table after a meal

Safety Tips for Cooking with Children

1. Prevent food poisoning by:
 -  Always washing hands before cooking.
 -  Not eating raw eggs or raw meats.
 -  Waiting until the food is cooked before sampling it.
 -  No sampling uncooked foods.
 -  Keeping refrigerated foods cool until use.
 -  Using fresh ingredients, watch expiration dates.
2. Have children stand at the level of the activity. Use a stool if necessary.
3. Keep children away from the stove or oven when turned on and let food cool a little before serving to children.
4. Use cooking supplies that will not break (such as plastic measuring cups and stainless-steel bowls).
5. Use plastic knives or butter knives for cutting.
6. Always watch everything your children do.
 - Always watch children when they use knives, mixers, or the stove.
 - Supervise the use of ovens, stoves, and other kitchen appliances.
 - Remind children that stoves, ovens, pans, and dishes can be very hot.

What to expect from children and their cooking

-  It will be messy.
-  It will take longer than when done by a parent alone.
-  The finished product might not look pretty.
-  They will be very proud of themselves! So praise them.
-  You will have an opportunity to praise them.

Cooking with Beans

Four Easy Steps for Cooking Beans

1. BUY GOOD BEANS

Look for clean, firm, whole beans of the same color and size.

2. WASH and SORT

Get rid of foreign objects and damaged beans. Rinse in cold water.

3. SOAK

For every pound (2 cups) beans, add 10 cups hot water in a large pot. Boil 2-3 minutes, then cover and soak 4 –12 hours. Drain off soaking water and rinse.

4. COOK

Put beans, soaked, drained and rinsed, (1 lb. dry make 4-6 cups cooked) into a large pot with 6 cups of water. Boil gently until desired tenderness (depends on type of bean, usually 1-2 hours). You want firmer beans for salads and softer beans for mashing.

Storage Tips

Store dry beans in a cool, dry place in a tightly closed container.

Cooking Tips

Beans are a complimentary food and go well with many different flavors (add your favorite spices or sauces). Try adding beans to your favorite casseroles or dishes. Beans are an exciting addition to boring salads. Mashed beans are good added to ground meat for burgers or instead of tuna for a sandwich spread. Pureed beans added to soups make them heartier.

Pre-cooking Beans

Cooking a bunch of beans ahead of time is a good idea. Cooked beans will keep for 4-5 days in the refrigerator and 4-5 months in the freezer. Try putting them in small yogurt containers. Pull them out and pop them in any meal or dish.

Microwaves are an excellent way to reheat beans.

- 1 cup of uncooked dry beans when cooked is equivalent to 1 can of beans.
- Beans are a great soft table food for infants when mashed and whole for older children.

What to do with cereal

Cereal in the traditional way is always good: cereal with milk.

- Try adding fruit (fresh, frozen or canned.)

But, if you don't like cereal with milk try:

- Sprinkle WIC cereal over desserts or breakfast meals like oatmeal.
- Sprinkle WIC cereal over casseroles for a crunchy top.
- Crushed cereal is good in breads or baked goods. It also makes a good crust or bottom for dessert bars.
- Add to snack mixes for extra crunch.
- Crushed cereal with spices is good as a breading for fish or chicken—just use milk or eggs for make it stick.

Storage Tips:

- Store cereal in a cool, dry place in a sealed container.

Cheese

The secrets of cheese

- Cheese tastes good with breads, crackers, meats, beans, pastas, rice, eggs & vegetables.
- Sliced cheese is an excellent snack on bread, cold or melted, crackers or sandwiches.
- Shredded or grated cheese is great sprinkled on top of casseroles, soups, salads, cooked vegetables & rice, potato, pasta or bean dishes.
- A little shredded cheese is good for children after 9 months.

Storage Tips

- Always refrigerate, wrap well to prevent mold & drying out.
- If it molds, cut away the moldy spots & use the rest as soon as possible.
- If it is dry, crumble or grate & sprinkle on casseroles, etc. as soon as possible.

Freezing Cheese

- Wrap cheese in plastic wrap then put into a freezer bag. It will last up to 4 months in the freezer and a couple weeks after thawed. Thaw in the refrigerator. It will crumble easily. Use like shredded cheese.

Using Eggs

- Eggs make great breakfasts, lunches or dinners as fried, poached, scrambled, deviled or in an omelet with vegetables, meat & cheese.
- Eggs are great in casseroles, ground meat (burgers), baked goods, salads & sandwiches
- Infants can have mashed yolks at 8 months & whites after 1 year.

Storage Tips

- Always keep eggs refrigerated in their carton. For every hour eggs are at room temperature they age a day. The older the eggs, the higher the risk for food poisoning. Do not eat raw eggs.

Freezing Eggs

Eggs that are frozen in the correct way are perfectly fine to eat and bake with. They last up to 6 months in the freezer.

Whole Eggs - beat the yolk & white together, then put into a freezing container & label with the number of eggs & the date.

Yolks - yolks are special: in the freezer yolks become too similar to gelatin so add 1/8 tsp salt or 1 1/2 tsp sugar for every 1/4 cup (4 yolks). Put into a freezer container and label with number of eggs, date and whether it has salt (for main dishes) or sugar (for desserts or baked goods).

Thaw eggs in the refrigerator and use as soon as thawed

For use after thawing

- Use 3 tbsp of whole egg for every fresh egg
- Use 1 tbsp yolk for every fresh yolk
- Use 2 tbsp whites for every fresh white

To juice or not to juice?

Juice is a good snack, but too much can cause...

- Tooth decay
- Stomach problems
- Diarrhea
- Lack of hunger for other nutritious food
- Stunted growth
- Obesity

So, to reduce these risks, use the majority of your juice in recipes or meals such as:

- Juice instead of water in oatmeal for a fruity flavor
- Mix yogurt & juice with a fork for a smoothie without a blender
- Use frozen juice concentrate to flavor yogurt
- Add juice (apple and orange) to marinades for meat
- Add juice to dressing for salads
- Add juice to sweeten soups
- Freeze in cups with sticks for popsicle snacks

Storage Tips

- Keep opened juice in the refrigerator and use within a couple of weeks.
- Keep frozen concentrate frozen until use.

 Steps for Children

Got Milk?

Milk is also an excellent snack (children should have whole milk until 2 years, then low fat.)

- Milk is a great way to add calcium to any meal
- Use milk in drinks
- Use with cereal and fruit
- Use in frozen desserts and puddings
- Use in cream sauces
- Use in dressing to make them creamier
- Add to soups to make them creamier and thicker
- Use in gravies
- Add to ground meat meals (meat loaf, burgers)
- Add to mashed potatoes for a creamier taste
- Moisten chicken or fish before breading using cereal

Storage Tips

- Keep fresh milk refrigerated and covered at all times.
- Don't mix old and new milk.
- Keep unopened can of evaporated milk in a dry place.
- Keep powdered milk closed and in a cool, dry place.

Freezing Milk

Freezing is a great way to save milk for a couple of weeks after a big sale. Warning: thawed milk is perfectly safe and wholesome, but the texture might change a bit. To reduce texture change stir well after thawing.

To freeze Remove at least 1 cup of milk from the top of the container so there is room for expansion. The milk should be frozen before the 'best if used by' date & will last for a month.

To thaw Thaw milk in the refrigerator so it doesn't spoil. Make sure it is completely thawed. Mix well before using and use as soon as possible.
