

Kids Don't Float Acknowledgement Form

To help guide you with this program you will need to remember a few more important things, please review the following and fill out the bottom portion of the form:

By agreeing to be a Kids Don't Float site sponsor you have specific roles in maintaining any and all of your sites.

1. Visit your site boards occasionally during the season; check on the condition of the board and pfd's.
2. At the end of the season count your inventory and store pfd's in a dry place.
3. Identify additional sites in your area for a Kids Don't Float board.
4. Complete annual survey, request for materials and report any "saves" (incidents where a KDF life jacket saved a person from drowning).
5. Let us know of any changes in KDF sponsor contact information.
6. Finally, the life jackets provided by the State of Alaska for the loaner board program are given to communities free of charge. Users and sponsors should not have to pay to obtain or use them.

Every KDF site sponsor will face the challenge of keeping an adequate supply of life jackets for their board(s). As a site sponsor you should try to seek out community donations and support, as the main program sponsors cannot supply new jackets for every board every year.

Consider becoming a Water Safety instructor or Kids Don't Float peer educator to emphasize the importance of pfd use and safe boating habits.

Surveys for request of materials and site information updates are available online at www.kidsdontfloat.alaska.gov . It is important for the KDF program to receive feedback, reports of lives saved and changes to the sponsorship and location of sites!

Thank you for making this a viable program in your community if it weren't for individuals like you this program would not be as successful as it is today(200 Alaskan communities and growing).
