Program Eligibility

- Participant must be in one of the target populations
- Must have a disability, as defined by HUD
- Be between the ages of 18-62 (at the time of moving into the housing unit)
- Be considered low income, defined as at or below 30 percent of Area Median Income; AND
- Be eligible for community-based long term services provided by a Division of Behavioral Health funded Community Behavioral Health Services Provider, and/or a Division of Senior and Disabilities Services funded provider
- Each participant will be required to have a Sponsoring Agency that will help with the application process and offer services and supports to enhance the participant's ability to maintain independent community living.

Application Process

- ✓ Applicants are required to complete two applications—an initial application to determine program eligibility and a formal HUD application.
- ✓ Sponsoring Agencies will assist participants with program applications.
- ✓ Applications must be completed and signed by both the Sponsoring Agency and the Participant.
- ✓ Priority will be given to individuals residing in Assisted Living Homes as General Relief recipients. All others will be prioritized on a first-come, first-served basis.

Target Populations

- Individuals residing in Assisted Living Homes who are recipients of the financial benefit “General Relief for Assisted Living Home Care” (GR)
- Individuals discharging from the Alaska Psychiatric Institute (API) or the Department of Corrections (DOC), who would otherwise be referred to Assisted Living Home care
- Youth who are aging out of foster care or institutional settings, or transitioning from the adolescent service system to the adult service system
