REPORTING CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT IN ALASKA

Report Abuse and Neglect to Office of Children's Services

Alaska law AS 47.32.200 (c) requires foster care providers to report child abuse and neglect. Foster care providers who, in the performance of their professional duties, have reasonable cause to suspect that a child has suffered harm as a result of abuse or neglect, must immediately (as soon as reasonably possible - no later than 24 hours) report that information to the nearest office of the State's Department of Health and Social Services, Office of Children's Services.

If you have a reasonable suspicion, even if you are not sure about the existence of abuse or neglect, you are obligated to report. It is not your responsibility to determine whether your suspicions are correct or to investigate those suspicions. It is also not your responsibility to determine if the abuse or neglect occurred in the child's home or in the foster home.

If you cannot contact the nearest office of the Office of Children's Services for any reason, and immediate action is necessary for the well-being of the child, make your report to a police agency. An officer will then take immediate action to protect the child and, at the earliest opportunity, will notify the nearest office of the Office of Children's Services.

There may be times when you wonder whether something constitutes abuse or neglect, or if your suspicions are adequate to warrant reporting. Please feel free to contact the Office of Children's Services office nearest you.

What is child abuse or neglect?

State law defines child abuse or neglect to include the following actions by those responsible for a child's welfare:

- Physical injury that harms or threatens a child's health or welfare;
- Failure to care for a child, including neglect of the necessary physical (food, shelter, clothing, and medical attention), emotional, mental and social needs;
- Sexual abuse, including molestation or incest;
- Sexual exploitation, including permitting or encouraging prostitution;
- Mental injury -- An injury to the emotional well-being, or intellectual or physiological capacity of a child, as evidenced by an observable and substantial impairment in the child's ability to function in a developmentally appropriate manner; or
- Maltreatment -- A child has suffered substantial harm as a result of child abuse or neglect due to an act or omission not necessarily committed by the child's parent, custodian or guardian.
