

FLAME STILL BURNS STRONG AT 104

ERIK HILL / Anchorage Daily News

Ura Harp blows out candles at a celebration of her 104th birthday on Wednesday at the Anchorage Pioneers' Home downtown. Administrator David Frain held up two candlelit cakes for her. Born Nov. 28, 1903, Ura has been in Alaska for just more than 10 years, but considers herself a Texan at heart. Ura, fellow residents and friends enjoyed goodies prepared by the staff. Ura was also enthralled with the gift of a stuffed holiday bear. "He's happy!" she said. "Look at that smile!"
